

Custom photography is for people who enjoy taking a more active role in the creation of their family's memories have the desire to have portrait ART that is truly personalized. It is more of a luxury than your typical mall portrait experience and it requires a level investment in time, money, forethought and planning on the part of my client and myself. Although there is a great deal of time involved in creating high end custom photography sessions for a client, this is also an experience that should be relaxed, fun and freeing.

I strive every single session with my clients to create images that go beyond just a record of your life. To capture the essence of your unique family; your quirks, your spark and your connection that binds you all together. I want you to have art hanging on the walls in your home; art that captures your family, that memorializes this special time in your life and images that will make your heart skip a beat each time you walk down the hall in your home.

By hiring Life is Sweet {Photo Boutique} for your custom photography needs my goal is that you enjoy every bit of what we create. I love creating tangible products for people to oooh...and...ahhh over, but I also like giving over the digital files....they are YOUR pictures after all! Life is Sweet offers packages that would include both of those options. I also pride myself on providing boutique products that match your style....they are fresh, fun, and truly unique. I hope that you will enjoy the luxury of great service, better choices and a superb high-end product
